Australian Community Indicators Network

Posted on 23 September 2011

In May, we attended a teleconference held by the Australian Community Indicators Network (ACIN). A video of the teleconference is available here.

The teleconference was a presentation by Meg Holden. She is the Director of Regional Vancouver Urban Observatory (RVu). It was a very interesting presentation and I highly recommended you watch it if you have the time. I'll post on some of what Meg talked about in a future blog. For now, I'd like to talk about ACIN. To read more click here
